

Credit Analyst: European Leveraged Loans and High Yield

Accunia is a leading asset management firm within structured credit, leveraged loans and high yield. We manage more than EUR 2bn in Accunia CLO vehicles, funds, and managed accounts. We are 36 professionals and six different nationalities. The corporate language is English.

The position

The candidate will work in the investment team and analyse corporates, covering a range of specified industries. The candidate will provide bottom-up analysis on corporates and report to the portfolio managers. Responsibilities will include, but not be limited to:

- Due diligence on market and individual corporate credits to identify potential assets for investment in both the primary and secondary market;
- Provide ongoing monitoring on the European leveraged loan portfolio; and
- Support Portfolio Managers in maintaining relationships with banks and sponsors.

The candidate

The candidate has a relevant university degree or equivalent with outstanding academic credentials (top quartile). Further, the ideal candidate will:

- Have 2+ years of experience analysing corporates from an asset manager, bank, auditor, rating agency, private equity firm, or similar;
- Have a good understanding of and interest in financial markets, corporate finance, and credit risk;
- Have attention to detail, a structured work approach, and an ability to consistently deliver high-quality results;
- Is a team player with an ambitious and proactive mindset;
- Have excellent communication skills and high proficiency in written and spoken English; and
- Have expertise in Excel, and other Microsoft office products.

We offer you

We believe that Accunia is a great place to work. Accunia has a flat organisation with dedicated employees, all having the possibility to make an impact on the organisation on a day-to-day basis. Accunia is a leading asset management firm within structured credit, private debt and high yield. We will offer:

- A challenging and rewarding job with a competitive package;
- The opportunity to be part of a successful team with highly motivated, competent, and supportive colleagues;
- A unique possibility to work with management of credit portfolios on a top-tier international level of expertise;
- An attractive career path within leveraged loans and high yield; and
- The ability to work in a dynamic and international environment.
